Sir:

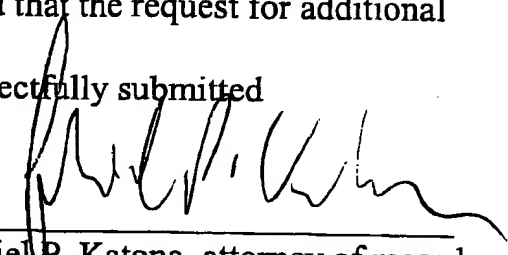

This is a response to the request for additional information mailed on September 27, 2002.

That request asked for another copy of the translator's certificate signed by Karl Forster. I have reviewed that Translator's Certificate, and noted the signature. The first name and the middle name of Dr. Forster, namely "Dr. Karl Heinz" are clearly legible from his signature, but the last name is not so distinct. However, Dr. Forster (who is no longer used by the undersigned as a translator for reasons that are not relevant here) is of European origin and over there it is not as usual and customary to use legible signatures, as it may more often be the case in this country. Nevertheless, I attest to the fact that the signature is genuinely that of Dr. Forster, and, furthermore, I am not aware of any requirement that a genuine signature also has to be fully legible.

Therefore, it is respectfully requested that the request for additional information be waived.

Respectfully submitted
